Keymacro for Windows allows you to record sequences of keystrokes and quickly repeat them using macros. The macros may be stored in any type of file, e.g. HTML, XML, XSL, MS Word, and many more. You can use Keymacro to automate your daily routine tasks, check your e-mails or study hard. When you're ready, your sequences are automatically recorded in a new file. You can then load your macros into Keymacro and repeat them on demand. The macros can be defined with any name you like, and you can add as many lines as you want. The usage is really easy: just press the keys you want to type, click the Macro button, and then type the name of the new file and press Save. More complex macros can be built by adding control lines to the text of the macros. After that, the sequence of keys is stored in the new file, so you can easily repeat it at any time. Keymacro is perfect for people who want to do their work on multiple documents, e-mails, web pages or even computer games in the same way. You can build complex macros by adding and editing lines of text and control lines. It is perfect for students, writers, journalists, computer programmers and many more. To achieve a more professional result, you can define scripts for multiple keystrokes, including hot keys, control keys and mouse clicks, which help you to build more complex macros. The most important features of Keymacro are:

- Write macros and replay them later.
- Load, save and export macros.
- Macro and text editing.
- All the possible hot keys for Windows.
- High-performance text editing.
- Macro recording and playback.
- Extra control keys for windows and mouse clicks.
- Hot keys for Internet Explorer, Firefox, Windows Explorer, Notepad, Notepad++, MS Word and other programs.
- Support the Unicode standard.
- Script editor.
- Supports all the standard languages and can be translated into all of them.
- Supports Internet Explorer 6, 7, 8 and Mozilla Firefox 3.5, 4, 5 and 6.
- Supports Windows 95/98/NT/ME/2000/XP/Vista/7/8/10.
